Dear Steve:

Re: Municipal Insurance Association of B.C. – Endorsement of Noratek Solutions' BuildingReporter

Our Board recently took the rare step of moving to endorse BuildingReporter and is encouraging MIABC members to adopt and use it.

The development of BuildingReporter was a joint undertaking of the MIABC and Noratek. The project focused on one of the most significant risk management challenges faced by local government – building inspections. Line representatives from a cross-section of our membership worked directly with your staff to develop the application. Our objective was to bring the advantages of checklist systems to the complex task of construction regulation. BuildingReporter has done this in a way that makes building officials' jobs easier: they are more productive while utilizing mobile features and tools that were previously unavailable. Inspections which note only deficiencies observed, have more inherent risk and costs associated with their use than the digital alternative being provided by Noratek's BuildingReporter.

The MIABC has been very pleased with the results obtained to date from the development and implementation of Noratek Solution's BuildingReporter application. We believe that the adoption of a digital checklist-based procedure for local government inspection services is a critical element of good risk management and quality assurance practices.

The MIABC is looking forward to working with Noratek in the development of additional mobile data collection applications to become part of the CityReporter suite as we are of the view these products will provide significant benefits to our members and other local governments.

Yours truly,
